CORPORATE LINKS

1. Grifols Website www.grifols.com

On this site, you'll find a range of information about Grifols: from the more general (who we are, news, and information about plasma-derived medicines) to career opportunities in our company.

TIP: Look at the dropdown menu. You can see the various countries where Grifols is present and go to the Grifols website for each country listed.

2. Grifols Engineering Website www.grifolsengineering.com

On this website you can find specific information about Grifols Engineering, the part of the company dedicated to developing machines and equipment for the production processes of medicines.

TIP: All official Grifols websites are in Spanish and English languages. Can you speak Spanish? It might be interesting to compare both languages and practice a little.

3. Grifols Foundation Website www.fundaciongrifols.com

This is a very interesting website, since it gives information about Víctor Grífols i Lucas Foundation, which promotes bioethics, a discipline that examines ethics applied to life sciences.

TIP: In this section you can find useful information for your future, both educational and professional. You'll find, for example, references to books, scientific publications, and grants.

4. Grifols Plasma Website www.grifolsplasma.com

This website explains the importance of being a donor and informs about all North American plasma donation centers.

TIP: Notice how many different companies are part of Grifols and the number of jobs they generate.
